

JEFFRIES STILL THE WORLD'S CHAMPION

BIG BOILERMAKER DISPOSES OF JAMES J. CORBETT IN THE TENTH ROUND.

HOPELESS FROM THE START

THE FORMER CHAMPION NEVER HAD A CHANCE OF WINNING THE BATTLE.

HIS BLOWS LACKED FORCE

JEFFRIES SHOWED MARVELOUS IMPROVEMENT IN SKILL AND IN HIS SPEED.

Mechanics' Pavilion, San Francisco, Aug. 15.—James J. Jeffries, champion heavyweight of the world, played with Jim Corbett for nine rounds and a half last night and then Corbett's seconds motioned to Referee Graney to stop the fight in order to save their man from needless punishment. The end came shortly after the beginning of the tenth round, when Jeffries planted one of his terrific left swings on Corbett's stomach. The man who conquered John L. Sullivan dropped to the floor in agony and the memorable scene at Carson City, when Bob Fitzsimmons landed his solar plexus blow, was almost duplicated. This time, however, Corbett struggled to his feet and again faced his gigantic adversary. With hardly a moment's hesitation Jeffries swung his right and again landed on Corbett's stomach.

Jim Dropped to the Floor and then it was that Tommy Ryan, seeing that it was all over, motioned to Referee Graney to stop the punishment.

The fight last night demonstrated beyond all doubt that Jeffries stands alone in his class. He showed remarkable improvement in both speed and skill. Corbett, during the first part of the fight, was almost outpointed and the few blows that he landed on Jeffries apparently had no sting. Jeffries was never in better condition. He looked lighter than usual and the way he moved on his feet and the frequency with which he countered Corbett's leads astonished everybody. Corbett, in comparison with the big man opposed to him, looked very light, but was really heavier than ever before. It was a mistake to have lost some of his old-time speed and skill during the early part of the fight, but this may have been due to Jeffries' marvelous improvement. Corbett's physical condition appeared to be all that he had claimed for it. He stood many of Jeffries' terrific blows without wincing and came back swinging lefts and rights and landing frequently, but his blows hardly stung Jeffries. Jeffries was not only stronger, faster and cleverer than ever before, but he and although Corbett would hit him hard enough to hurt an ordinary man, Jeffries would bore right in without noticing the blows and would deliver telling hits that materially helped in deciding the result of the fight.

At first Corbett was very cautious and apparently was outpointed by Jeffries, but later in the fight he warmed up and showed some of his old-time cleverness.

From the first, however, it was generally regarded as a hopeless case for Corbett. He made a gallant fight, but he never stood a show to win.

After the fight was over Corbett quickly recovered, walked over to Jeffries and shook him warmly by the hand. He said:

"Jim, you beat me fairly. You stand alone. No one can touch you." Corbett said it was his last fight, and showed no bitterness, freely admitting the better man won.

Jeffries said his fight proved he was better than ever and is the national champion; that Corbett put up a good fight, but his blows had no steam.

The seconds for Jeffries were Bob Fitzsimmons, Jack Jeffries, Joe Kennedy and Billy Delaney. Corbett's seconds were Tommy Ryan, Sam Berger, Yank Kenny and Pop Dare. Messengers from Jack Munroe and Jack Johnson challenged the winner.

THE FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

Jeffries Had the Better of the Struggle From the Start.

Round 1—They shake hands perfunctorily and come to the center. Jeff feinting and Corbett stepping lively. Jeffries swung left over Jim's head. Jim came in quickly to a clinch and they were very slow about breaking. Jeff put light left to Jim's ribs and they refused to break. Jim put right over the heart and clinched. Corbett stayed close in and put hard short arm right on the body. Jeff forced his man across the ring and put left light on the body. Corbett did very little footwork, but stayed close and put two rights solidly over the heart. Jeff missed right for the body but put it on the chest lightly. As they broke Corbett quickly stopped right to the head.

Round 2—Jeff came up quickly, missed left for the head and they clinched. They would not break, Jim claiming Jeff was holding on. In the break Jeff swung left on the back of the head. Corbett had failed thus far to land a single left hand blow. He attempted it at this stage but was too close in. Jeff forced him to the ropes, coming dangerously near the jaw with a left hook. They immediately came into a clinch in the break, after which Corbett hooked a smashing left to the jaw. Corbett sent in left and right to the body but got left hook on the head. Jeff came on quickly, but Corbett clinched. Corbett sent in a peculiar right hand half uppercut for the jaw, but was a trifle low. They fought carefully to the end.

Round 3—Both came to the center. Jeff missing a left and Corbett clinching. Jeff hooked left to the neck and Corbett jolted him over the ribs with short right. Corbett increased in speed somewhat and had to run to avoid a rush. He turned quickly and put right over the heart hard. There was a lot of clinching, neither taking a chance in the break. Jeff barely missed right for Corbett's jaw and roughed him in the clinch. There was a lot of hooting from the galleries. Jeff forced the fighting fiercely. Corbett began using left hook on the jaw, landing three times, and a left to the stomach. The blow did not hurt Jeffries and he only smiled and forced his man about the ring. It was a rough round in which honors were even.

Corbett Goes to His Knees.

Round 4—Jeff went after Corbett, but clever clinching and blocking prevented damage. Referee Graney stopped the fighting to look at Jeff's gloves, which was burst, but told them to go on with the round. Jeff fought hard in clinches but Corbett got in too close to get any damage. Jeff swung hard left on the chest and got left on the mouth and right over the heart. There were calls that Jeff was fighting foul, but the proceedings did not warrant any such claim. Corbett got in close, jabbing Jeffries with left several times, but the blows were so light that Jeffries laughed and came back. Corbett slipped to his knees from a left in the stomach. Jeffries came back with another one but Corbett blocked it. Corbett was strong and ran to his corner at the close.

Round 5—Police Captain Mooney entered the ring to look at Jeffries' glove. Fitzsimmons and Ryan went to Jeffries' corner and cut the glove off. Another was immediately substituted, but not until thirty seconds of the fifth round had expired. Jeffries fought for the body. Corbett doing some fast stepping to keep away. Corbett did not seem to have a bit of force behind his left hand hooks and alternated with a short right over his heart, which seemed to be the best he had. Jeffries stood up straight and hooked Corbett twice in the stomach. Corbett put the best blow thus far on Jeffries' ribs, but got a left on the neck in return. Jeffries put a hard left hook on Corbett's jaw, following it up with left and right for the body. Corbett held on and the gong rang.

Round 6—Jeffries took his crouching position for an instant and put left on the head. He then stood straight and put left on the chin. Corbett went down for nine seconds. He got up and smiled for a moment, then clinched. He took left on the body and another on the head, but fought back gamely. He crossed Jeffries with right to the jaw without damage. Fighting at close quarters, Corbett up-percut Jeffries to the chin.

Does Some Clever Foot Work.

Round 7—Jeffries went after Corbett fiercely. Corbett used his feet to good advantage at this stage. He tried to use his once lightning left, but it was a lame excuse. He came in quickly and sent his right to the heart, but Jeffries came back with left on the body. Corbett was holding on, saying, "He can't knock me out. Go on, Jim, see if you can knock me out." They clinched repeatedly. Corbett landed several short-arm lefts and rights on the head. As quickly as they came into a break Jeffries was on top of him, forcing him to a clinch. Corbett took a left on the head and upper cut to the chin.

Round 8—Corbett staggered Jeffries with a left to the nose and ducked Jeffries' left. Jeffries hooked right to the body. Corbett sending in half a dozen lefts and rights on Jeffries' face, which he accepted pleasantly. Jeffries was coming toward his man all the time and in a breakaway almost landed right on the jaw. Jeffries put a hard left to the body, got two lefts on the face, and came back with left on the head. Corbett endeavored to stab Jeffries in the eyes, but thus far his blows had not raised a bump. Corbett fought cleverly at this stage, sending in half a dozen lefts and rights on the jaw. He seemed to improve 100 per cent and the great crowd was in a state of wild excitement. They cheered him to the echo. This was Corbett's round. He had changed his style and was using some of his old-time cleverness in ducking and blocking.

Jeff Rushes Like a Mad Bull.

Round 9—Jeffries came at Corbett with a rush like that of a mad bull. Corbett put left on the face and avoided a return. Jeffries leaned heavily on Corbett in the clinch. Corbett seemed as strong as ever and there was a long series of clinches. Corbett put three rights on the body at close quarters. He hooked Jeffries on the jaw three times with left and crossed with right. He blocked Jeffries' efforts and at close quarters put three rights on the body and one on the jaw. He repeatedly stabbed Jeffries on the mouth with lefts. Corbett's left cheek showed a lump from one of Jeffries' close arm blows. Jeffries had a similar mark. Jeffries hooked left to the body and the referee had trouble in separating them. At the close Corbett stabbed Jeffries' mouth with his left three times, but they were weak efforts.

Round 10—Jeffries stood straight up and came after his man without hesitation. Corbett seemed to be making a waiting fight. They exchanged lefts to the face and Jeffries made a vicious effort. Jeffries sent a left hook to the stomach and Corbett went down for nine seconds. He got up and received a left in the stomach and right on the jaw. He went down and after the count of seven, Tommy Ryan threw up the sponge. Corbett was suffering pain and a chair was brought for him. After a minute's rest he recovered and got up and shook hands with Jeffries.

Ten thousand people saw the fight, the sale of tickets netting $54,000. Only two fights exceeded these gate receipts: the Corbett-Jeffries fight, Coney Island, $66,000; Corbett-McCoy fight, New York, $63,000.

The preliminaries were a six round draw between Frank Smith of Los Angeles and Jack Sheridan of San Rafael, and another of like length between Jack Evans and Jerry Fairbanks.

A FARM TO BREED WOLVES.

Kansas Ranchmen See a Good Thing in Dollar a Scalp Bounty.

The county commissioners of Lane county, Kan., have stopped paying bounties on wolf scalps pending the investigation of a story that a wolf breeding ranch has been established in the northern part of the county, says a Dighton dispatch to the Kansas City Star. With the price of scalps at a dollar each, the business of raising wolves pays better than many of the industries in this part of the state.

It is reported at Dighton that several of the ranchmen in the northern part of the county have established a breeding place for the animals in some of the canyons along Walnut creek. A surprisingly large number of pelts have been brought in from that part of the county, and an investigation will be made.

"Your booklet came to my home like a message of health when I had suffered with headache, backache and bearing-down pains. I was weak, nervous and hysterical and had not consulted any doctor, thinking it would pass away in time, but instead I found that the pains increased and were more frequent. I decided to try Wine of Cardui and in a short time was much improved. It seemed to act like a charm. I kept up the treatment and the result was most satisfactory. Words fail to express my gratitude for the suffering that is now saved me. I am in fine health, physically and mentally. I can only say 'thank you', but there is much more in my heart for you."

BEARING-DOWN pains are the worst that women know. If you are suffering from this trouble you need not be uncertain about it. The pains in the abdomen and back that feel as if heavy weights were pulling down on the nerves of the stomach are "bearing-down pains". They may not be particularly severe at present but they are growing worse. That headache which nearly drives you distracted now is caused by the terrible

The county commissioners of Lane county, Kan., have stopped paying bounties on wolf scalps pending the investigation of a story that a wolf breeding ranch has been established in the northern part of the county, says a Dighton dispatch to the Kansas City Star. With the price of scalps at a dollar each, the business of raising wolves pays better than many of the industries in this part of the state.

It is reported at Dighton that several of the ranchmen in the northern part of the county have established a breeding place for the animals in some of the canyons along Walnut creek. A surprisingly large number of pelts have been brought in from that part of the county, and an investigation will be made.

Narrow Escape From a Rattler.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 15.—While picking berries on the bluffs near La Crosse Friday, Miss Alma Herald, a pretty girl of Duluth visiting friends here, narrowly escaped death from the sting of a rattlesnake. The girl was transfixed by the serpent and was unable to move, being hypnotized apparently. A passing farmer killed the reptile as it was preparing to spring.

Change in the Venetian Campanile.

The engineers in charge of rebuilding the campanile of Venice have notified the authorities that owing to the decayed condition of the old foundation it will be impossible to erect the tower on the original site. This being so, the chances are that the idea to build a facsimile of the old will be abandoned and the new tower will be of original design.

MISS FAY LEE,

President of the Shakespearean Club, Kansas City.

"Your booklet came to my home like a message of health when I had suffered with headache, backache and bearing-down pains. I was weak, nervous and hysterical and had not consulted any doctor, thinking it would pass away in time, but instead I found that the pains increased and were more frequent. I decided to try Wine of Cardui and in a short time was much improved. It seemed to act like a charm. I kept up the treatment and the result was most satisfactory. Words fail to express my gratitude for the suffering that is now saved me. I am in fine health, physically and mentally. I can only say 'thank you', but there is much more in my heart for you."

nervous tension. The nerves soon begin to give way under the strain. You perhaps jump at any unusual disturbance, or laugh or weep, hysterically, at no apparent cause. That is what Miss Fay Lee, 603 1/2 North Seventh Street, Kansas City, Kansas, was coming to when she rescued herself by taking Wine of Cardui. The Wine made her a strong, healthy woman again, as it has made a million other women strong and healthy. By inducing regular menstruation the entire system is relieved of the terrible wasting drains. The ligaments which hold the womb in place are strengthened by a healthy flow and that organ is returned to its normal position. Returning health is the result. This is what Wine of Cardui has done for thousands of the best women in America.

BEARING-DOWN pains are the worst that women know. If you are suffering from this trouble you need not be uncertain about it. The pains in the abdomen and back that feel as if heavy weights were pulling down on the nerves of the stomach are "bearing-down pains". They may not be particularly severe at present but they are growing worse. That headache which nearly drives you distracted now is caused by the terrible

Horticultural Exhibit.

Advance reports from the fruit growers of the state indicate that the coming Minnesota state fair will be perhaps the finest ever seen on the fair grounds. It is regarded as a good year for apples in this section, while other fruits if not in the very best condition are at least of fairly good quality and plentiful in quantity. This year the horticultural exhibit will occupy a part of the great agricultural hall but it is hoped within a year or so to have a building for the exclusive use of the fruit growers. Only a few years ago both agricultural and horticultural exhibits occupied a comparatively small building; now the fair has grown so enormously that both departments are much crowded in the great agricultural building, nearly 250 feet square.

The Death Penalty.

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica salve ever handy. It's the best salve on earth and will prevent fatality, when burns, sores, ulcers and piles threaten. Only 25c at H. P. Dunn & Co. drug store.

Stories of Electric Railway Accident Told by Eyewitnesses.

PASSENGERS REFUSED TO LEAVE.

Chief Guard of One of the Trains Says They Waited While Motor Burned, Demanded Return of Their Fares Till Lights Went Out, and Then a Panic Ensued—A Newspaper Man's Experience.

Chedal, chief guard of train No. 48, which was enveloped at the Charonnes station by smoke caused by the burning of train No. 43, made the following statement about the recent accident in the Paris Metropolitan Underground railway, says the New York Herald:

"My train was packed. It contained at least 350 passengers. We had picked up at the Barbes station the passengers who had been made to get out of train No. 43, in which the carriage containing the motor caught fire. At Charonnes station we were stopped by signals. As the waiting became tedious, some passengers jocosely shouted out, 'Tout le monde descend!' These words had been used by the railway servants in telling them to get out of train No. 43 at the Barbes station.

"A few passengers got angry over the delay, but the majority regarded it as a laughing matter and cracked jokes about it. Suddenly I noticed dense smoke coming from the direction of Menilmontant. Realizing the danger, I shouted to the passengers to get out of the train, at the same time running to the telephone to request the Belleville station to cut off the electric current. But the telephone was not in working order.

"I called an employee named Latige and asked him to run to the Belleville station via the boulevard. He started off immediately. Meantime the guards were begging the passengers to get out of the train, but the passengers refused. 'We were made to get out at the Barbes station,' they said, 'and we have had enough of it.' All this time the smoke was steadily approaching, becoming denser and denser. It was like a wall advancing. Seeing the smoke enveloping us, I finally took by the arms some passengers who were standing at the carriage door, shouting to them, 'Do get out!'

"These passengers then surrounded me and demanded that the cost of their tickets be refunded. I replied: 'The money will be refunded later on. Run away.' But they would not heed me. They used threats and I received several blows. A crowd gathered around me and prevented the passengers who had been in the end carriages from reaching the exit staircase up which most of the other passengers had made their escape.

"Then the electric light suddenly went out. A fearful crush followed in the darkness. Piercing shrieks resounded during a few seconds, but the suffocating smoke speedily silenced every voice. I tried to light some wax matches, but the fumes of the smoke extinguished them instantaneously. Then I groped my way along to the wall. I knew that the exit is at the left extremity of the platform, so I advanced in that direction, keeping against the wall. As I was groping along I touched somebody whose arms were beating like windmills. I caught hold of an arm and dragged this person along with me.

"When we reached the exit staircase I felt that the person I was dragging was about to faint. I was half suffocated myself and my head was whirling. I made a supreme effort to get up a few steps. On reaching the upper floor of the station I fell with the person, a woman, whom I had dragged along in the darkness. Fortunately help was soon at hand. Rescuers picked us up and conveyed us to a chemist's shop."

M. Alfred Martin, correspondent of the Gazette de Charleroi, who with his wife was in one of the trains burned, gives his impressions of the disaster as follows:

"My wife and I took the Metropolitan at the Place Clichy about 7 o'clock. We intended to go to the Bastille in order to take a train for Chenevilliers at the Gare de Vincennes. When we arrived at the Boulevard Barbes we were told to alight, as the floor of the carriage containing the motor had caught fire. The flames were extinguished with hand grenades. Then the train started slowly on its way to the work shops at the Place de la Nation.

"We, with other passengers, were crowded into the following train and started off again, but when we had arrived between the Rue d'Allemagne and the Belleville stations we had another stoppage. The first train had pulled up in front of us and obstructed the line. We had to get out once more, as it had been decided to push the first train along with the assistance of the second. Then a third train came up, and we got in, following the others.

"At the Charonnes station there was another stop. Some passengers began to complain and others laughed and joked, but no one was conscious of danger. The station master was about to give the order to proceed when two officials excitedly shouted 'Sauve qui peut!' There was at once a great amount of pushing and elbowing, but no one seemed panic stricken. The idea rather prevailed that some one was joking. The majority of the passengers, however, my wife and I included, made our way toward the staircase. There were cries of 'My three cents! My three cents!'

"We found it impossible to get up the stairs, which were crowded with people who intended to take the train and who refused to listen to us. When

Horticultural Exhibit.

Advance reports from the fruit growers of the state indicate that the coming Minnesota state fair will be perhaps the finest ever seen on the fair grounds. It is regarded as a good year for apples in this section, while other fruits if not in the very best condition are at least of fairly good quality and plentiful in quantity. This year the horticultural exhibit will occupy a part of the great agricultural hall but it is hoped within a year or so to have a building for the exclusive use of the fruit growers. Only a few years ago both agricultural and horticultural exhibits occupied a comparatively small building; now the fair has grown so enormously that both departments are much crowded in the great agricultural building, nearly 250 feet square.

PARIS SUBWAY HORROR

Stories of Electric Railway Accident Told by Eyewitnesses.

PASSENGERS REFUSED TO LEAVE.

Chief Guard of One of the Trains Says They Waited While Motor Burned, Demanded Return of Their Fares Till Lights Went Out, and Then a Panic Ensued—A Newspaper Man's Experience.

Chedal, chief guard of train No. 48, which was enveloped at the Charonnes station by smoke caused by the burning of train No. 43, made the following statement about the recent accident in the Paris Metropolitan Underground railway, says the New York Herald:

"My train was packed. It contained at least 350 passengers. We had picked up at the Barbes station the passengers who had been made to get out of train No. 43, in which the carriage containing the motor caught fire. At Charonnes station we were stopped by signals. As the waiting became tedious, some passengers jocosely shouted out, 'Tout le monde descend!' These words had been used by the railway servants in telling them to get out of train No. 43 at the Barbes station.

"A few passengers got angry over the delay, but the majority regarded it as a laughing matter and cracked jokes about it. Suddenly I noticed dense smoke coming from the direction of Menilmontant. Realizing the danger, I shouted to the passengers to get out of the train, at the same time running to the telephone to request the Belleville station to cut off the electric current. But the telephone was not in working order.

"I called an employee named Latige and asked him to run to the Belleville station via the boulevard. He started off immediately. Meantime the guards were begging the passengers to get out of the train, but the passengers refused. 'We were made to get out at the Barbes station,' they said, 'and we have had enough of it.' All this time the smoke was steadily approaching, becoming denser and denser. It was like a wall advancing. Seeing the smoke enveloping us, I finally took by the arms some passengers who were standing at the carriage door, shouting to them, 'Do get out!'

"These passengers then surrounded me and demanded that the cost of their tickets be refunded. I replied: 'The money will be refunded later on. Run away.' But they would not heed me. They used threats and I received several blows. A crowd gathered around me and prevented the passengers who had been in the end carriages from reaching the exit staircase up which most of the other passengers had made their escape.

"Then the electric light suddenly went out. A fearful crush followed in the darkness. Piercing shrieks resounded during a few seconds, but the suffocating smoke speedily silenced every voice. I tried to light some wax matches, but the fumes of the smoke extinguished them instantaneously. Then I groped my way along to the wall. I knew that the exit is at the left extremity of the platform, so I advanced in that direction, keeping against the wall. As I was groping along I touched somebody whose arms were beating like windmills. I caught hold of an arm and dragged this person along with me.

"When we reached the exit staircase I felt that the person I was dragging was about to faint. I was half suffocated myself and my head was whirling. I made a supreme effort to get up a few steps. On reaching the upper floor of the station I fell with the person, a woman, whom I had dragged along in the darkness. Fortunately help was soon at hand. Rescuers picked us up and conveyed us to a chemist's shop."

M. Alfred Martin, correspondent of the Gazette de Charleroi, who with his wife was in one of the trains burned, gives his impressions of the disaster as follows:

"My wife and I took the Metropolitan at the Place Clichy about 7 o'clock. We intended to go to the Bastille in order to take a train for Chenevieres at the Gare de Vincennes. When we arrived at the Boulevard Barbes we were told to alight, as the floor of the carriage containing the motor had caught fire. The flames were extinguished with hand grenades. Then the train started slowly on its way to the work shops at the Place de la Nation.

"We, with other passengers, were crowded into the following train and started off again, but when we had arrived between the Rue d'Allemagne and the Belleville stations we had another stoppage. The first train had pulled up in front of us and obstructed the line. We had to get out once more, as it had been decided to push the first train along with the assistance of the second. Then a third train came up, and we got in, following the others.

"At the Charonnes station there was another stop. Some passengers began to complain and others laughed and joked, but no one was conscious of danger. The station master was about to give the order to proceed when two officials excitedly shouted 'Sauve qui peut!' There was at once a great amount of pushing and elbowing, but no one seemed panic stricken. The idea rather prevailed that some one was joking. The majority of the passengers, however, my wife and I included, made our way toward the staircase. There were cries of 'My three cents! My three cents!'

"We found it impossible to get up the stairs, which were crowded with people who intended to take the train and who refused to listen to us. When

COUNCIL UP AGAINST 'NOTHER SMALL SNAG

Communication from Secretary Bracken of State Board of Health is Read.

STATE BOARD WILL OBJECT

To the Sewerage Plan as Laid Out Both from a Local and General Standpoint.

There was a special meeting of the city council last night for the purpose of considering the sewer question, particularly the phase of the question which President Tighe, of the Minnesota Water Works company, has interested himself in. The chair was occupied by President Crust and the following responded to the roll call: Halladay, Purdy, Murphy, C. D. Johnson, Gruenhagen, Rowley, Larson and Robertson. Alderman Gruenhagen stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of considering the sewerage and to decide what action to take in view of the fact that Mr. Tighe had taken the stand that he has regarding the crossing of his land on the bottom.

Attorney Fleming was present and expressed his opinion on the matter of condemnation proceedings. He stated that the sewer bill introduced last winter was a very perfect one, but when it comes to a question of condemnation under this bill there are many things to be considered. He stated that he being a resident of the Second ward, was very much interested to see the sewer put in. He stated that in this bill when the question of condemnation comes up a section in the general statute is referred to and this section says that no proceedings for condemnation shall interfere with the work, but of course with the provision that the city puts up an indemnity bond.

Then comes the matter of appraisal. When the bond is furnished it would seem on the face of the question that it was settled, but there is a question whether or not he has not the right to apply to the court for a restraining injunction. Of course the law reads that when the bond is put up there shall be no delay in the work.

The question of the natural waterway through the flat was discussed some, and it was thought that President Tighe could not prevent the city from making a natural flow there, but this scheme was not thought feasible from a sanitary standpoint.

A motion was finally made to the effect that City Attorney Fleming proceed at once with the condemnation proceedings, but this was withdrawn on further thought and the entire matter was dropped until the meeting on Monday evening.

ANOTHER QUESTION TO CONSIDER.

There is another question, even more important perhaps, and one which it is thought will cause the council more trouble than the one raised by President Tighe. A communication was read from Secretary Bracken, of the state board of health, which sort of astounded the councilmen. It was thought after his visit to the city that there was no objection to the sewer from that direction, except the very little matter of moving the discharge pipe further down the river than where it is now located. It was understood that Dr. Bracken approved the general plan of the sewer, but it would seem from the communication that he does not and that the state board of health will not stand for it. In the communication he advised the council not to enter into a contract for the sewer until he was heard from again; that the state board of health would object to the plan as laid out for the sewer both from a local and general standpoint.

Of course the communication which is expected will be received before the meeting of the council on Monday evening will be looked for with interest, as there is not much idea at present what the objections to the sewer are. There is a sort of presentiment that the state board will object to the discharge of the sewer into the Mississippi, although this is not authentic. The meeting on Monday night, will, therefore, be of particular interest.

Grondin in Court.

The following regarding the Grondin-Pelky case is taken from the Superior department of the Duluth News-Tribune:

"Peter Grondin was arraigned in the municipal court in connection with a charge preferred against him by August Pelke, of Washburn. The case was continued until today.

"Grondin was arrested by Sheriff McKinnon at Brainerd Wednesday night on warrants sworn out by Pelke. It is contended that some days ago his wife induced him to dispose of their household effects on the pretense of removing to Massachusetts, where they had been married several years ago. It is alleged that on his so doing, and contrary to his expectations, she left Washburn and meeting Grondin, journeyed in his company to Brainerd.

"It was decided on the arrival of the sheriff with his prisoners, that, owing to the fact the woman was accompanied by her three children, she should not be subjected to imprisonment, pending further disposition of the case. While technically under arrest, she was permitted to remain with her children at a hotel. Grondin is in the custody of the sheriff.

BOARD TOOK NO ACTION.

Brainerd Public Library Board Met Last Night to Consider Plans for Building.

Adjourn Until Monday.

There was a meeting last night of the Brainerd Public Library board to consider the various plans and designs submitted by various architects. The board looked these over and discussed them at length, but no action was taken for the reason that two sets of plans were expected from Minneapolis today, and as the board desired to give all an equal showing decided not to take definite action until Monday night when another meeting will be held.

TIMBER SALE OCTOBER 21

The State Auditor Fixes the Date for Annual Sale of Stumpage and Large Amount will be Advertised.

State Auditor Iverson will hold the annual sale of state stumpage Oct. 21. Cruisers Dedon and McKenzie have been in for several days and left yesterday to inspect the remaining tracts which it is proposed to sell. When they return the state timber board will decide just what will be offered for sale.

Mr. Iverson estimates that from 75,000, 000 to 100,000,000 feet will be advertised. Under the law it is his duty to sell all timber that is judged liable to loss by fire or windfall, or in other words, all that is "ripe." The tracts to be sold are scattered all over the northwest section of the state, in Cook, Lake, St. Louis, Itasca, Cass and Beltrami counties. Under the law the timber must be removed in two logging seasons after the sale, but the timber board may extend the time one year if good cause is shown.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"UNCLE JOSH SPRUCEBY."

A very pretty story of American life told on the stage will be presented at the Brainerd theatre next Monday night. It is the famous play of "Uncle Josh Spruceby," a story of New England farm life, full of fun that keeps the audience in a merry mood through the four acts, and with a vein of pathos that will cause a tear or two trickle down the cheek. The company presenting the play is an efficient one, and in addition to considerable special scenery, a first-class orchestra fills an important part.

One of the novel advertising devices used by the company to attract attention is the daily parade of the "Hayseed" band. The band itself while of much better calibre than the usual traveling organizations, has its members attired, as the title indicates, in the usual characteristic dress of the New England rustic. With "Uncle Josh" himself in the lead, umbrella and carpet sack in hand, they parade the principal streets and give a concert of choice selections. The parade takes place at noon. Seats are now on sale at Dunn's.

AMOS CERTAINLY HAD TROUBLE

His Wife Leaves Him and Refuses to Return Until he Clears His Farm of all The Swine and Joins Her Church.

Amos Miller, a farmer living not far from Brainerd is certainly a man of woe and tribulation, and singularly too his case has never had a parallel in this county. He is sort of halting between two opinions, the affection for his wife and his desire to raise hogs for a livelihood being weighed in the balance. Up to date his wife has been found wanting and the weight of the swine more than tip the balance.

The story runs, as related by Amos, that his better half spent a few months in Chicago with her parents some time ago and became interested there in what is known as the Catholic Zion religion—a new sect with ideas of their own regarding the administration of religious antidotes. Her people are now residents of this county and she has gone to live with them. They have no church of their belief here, but adhere to the principles as laid down in the creed, never wavering in the least, sacrificing even their home comforts if necessary to live up to the doctrine.

Now it has come to pass, according to Amos, that one of the very objectionable species of the animal life, one which is not allowable in his wife's religion, is the hog. The wife of Amos left his home some time ago because it became incumbent on him to maintain a sty, along with other diversified pursuits on the farm, in order to provide all the comforts of a home. Without hogs Amos declares he could not eke out a living, and now it is up to him to either go hungry or lose his wife. He has tried to effect a compromise and only yesterday offered to forgive and forget, but no, all the litter of little curly tailed piglets must be cremated else he will have to "batch" the rest of his life. He now contemplates divorce.

REMEDY FOR HAY FEVER.

After Trying Other Treatments Hyomei Was Used with Perfect Success.

Prior to the discovery of Hyomei, the only advice a physician could give to a hay fever patient was to go away from home but now any one who expects the disease, can, if Hyomei is used, stay at home without fear of the annual attack of sneezing, watery eyes, and other discomfort.

J. F. Forbes, a well known western railroad man, whose home is at McCook, Neb., writes, "I have never had relief from any remedy for hay fever, even temporarily, until I discovered the merits of Hyomei. I will always recommend it whenever occasion requires."

There is no offensive stomach dosing when Hyomei is used. It is a reliable remedy for the cure of all diseases of the respiratory organs and is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, so that the air taken into the throat and lungs is like that of the White Mountains or other health resorts where hay fever is unknown.

H. H. Dunn & Co. who have the local agency for Hyomei, advise all who are subject to hay fever to begin its use two or three weeks before the time of the annual appearance of this disease and thus prevent the attack. If, however, Hyomei is not used until the sneezing and other disagreeable symptoms have shown themselves, it is necessary to use the treatment more frequently, at least half a dozen times daily, and Hyomei Balm should be rubbed into the nostrils both morning and night.

The fact that H. P. Dunn & Co. agree to refund the money to any hay fever sufferer who uses Hyomei without success, should inspire confidence in its power to effect a cure.

COUNCIL UP AGAINST 'NOTHER SMALL SNAG

Communication from Secretary Bracken of State Board of Health is Read.

STATE BOARD WILL OBJECT

To the Sewerage Plan as Laid Out Both from a Local and General Standpoint.

There was a special meeting of the city council last night for the purpose of considering the sewer question, particularly the phase of the question which President Tighe, of the Minnesota Water Works company, has interested himself in. The chair was occupied by President Crust and the following responded to the roll call: Halladay, Purdy, Murphy, C. D. Johnson, Gruenhagen, Rowley, Larson and Robertson. Alderman Gruenhagen stated that the meeting was called for the purpose of considering the sewerage and to decide what action to take in view of the fact that Mr. Tighe had taken the stand that he has regarding the crossing of his land on the bottom.

Attorney Fleming was present and expressed his opinion on the matter of condemnation proceedings. He stated that the sewer bill introduced last winter was a very perfect one, but when it comes to a question of condemnation under this bill there are many things to be considered. He stated that he being a resident of the Second ward, was very much interested to see the sewer put in. He stated that in this bill when the question of condemnation comes up a section in the general statute is referred to and this section says that no proceedings for condemnation shall interfere with the work, but of course with the provision that the city puts up an indemnity bond.

Then comes the matter of appraisal. When the bond is furnished it would seem on the face of the question that it was settled, but there is a question whether or not he has not the right to apply to the court for a restraining injunction. Of course the law reads that when the bond is put up there shall be no delay in the work.

The question of the natural waterway through the flat was discussed some, and it was thought that President Tighe could not prevent the city from making a natural flow there, but this scheme was not thought feasible from a sanitary standpoint.

A motion was finally made to the effect that City Attorney Fleming proceed at once with the condemnation proceedings, but this was withdrawn on further thought and the entire matter was dropped until the meeting on Monday evening.

ANOTHER QUESTION TO CONSIDER.

There is another question, even more important perhaps, and one which it is thought will cause the council more trouble than the one raised by President Tighe. A communication was read from Secretary Bracken, of the state board of health, which sort of astounded the councilmen. It was thought after his visit to the city that there was no objection to the sewer from that direction, except the very little matter of moving the discharge pipe further down the river than where it is now located. It was understood that Dr. Bracken approved the general plan of the sewer, but it would seem from the communication that he does not and that the state board of health will not stand for it. In the communication he advised the council not to enter into a contract for the sewer until he was heard from again; that the state board of health would object to the plan as laid out for the sewer both from a local and general standpoint.

Of course the communication which is expected will be received before the meeting of the council on Monday evening will be looked for with interest, as there is not much idea at present what the objections to the sewer are. There is a sort of presentiment that the state board will object to the discharge of the sewer into the Mississippi, although this is not authentic. The meeting on Monday night, will, therefore, be of particular interest.

Grondin in Court.

The following regarding the Grondin-Pelky case is taken from the Superior department of the Duluth News-Tribune:

"Peter Grondin was arraigned in the municipal court in connection with a charge preferred against him by August Pelke, of Washburn. The case was continued until today.

"Grondin was arrested by Sheriff McKinnon at Brainerd Wednesday night on warrants sworn out by Pelke. It is contended that some days ago his wife induced him to dispose of their household effects on the pretense of removing to Massachusetts, where they had been married several years ago. It is alleged that on his so doing, and contrary to his expectations, she left Washburn and meeting Grondin, journeyed in his company to Brainerd.

"It was decided on the arrival of the sheriff with his prisoners, that, owing to the fact the woman was accompanied by her three children, she should not be subjected to imprisonment, pending further disposition of the case. While technically under arrest, she was permitted to remain with her children at a hotel. Grondin is in the custody of the sheriff.

BOARD TOOK NO ACTION.

Brainerd Public Library Board Met Last Night to Consider Plans for Building.

Adjourn Until Monday.

There was a meeting last night of the Brainerd Public Library board to consider the various plans and designs submitted by various architects. The board looked these over and discussed them at length, but no action was taken for the reason that two sets of plans were expected from Minneapolis today, and as the board desired to give all an equal showing decided not to take definite action until Monday night when another meeting will be held.

TIMBER SALE OCTOBER 21

The State Auditor Fixes the Date for Annual Sale of Stumpage and Large Amount will be Advertised.

State Auditor Iverson will hold the annual sale of state stumpage Oct. 21. Cruisers Dedon and McKenzie have been in for several days and left yesterday to inspect the remaining tracts which it is proposed to sell. When they return the state timber board will decide just what will be offered for sale.

Mr. Iverson estimates that from 75,000, 000 to 100,000,000 feet will be advertised. Under the law it is his duty to sell all timber that is judged liable to loss by fire or windfall, or in other words, all that is "ripe." The tracts to be sold are scattered all over the northwest section of the state, in Cook, Lake, St. Louis, Itasca, Cass and Beltrami counties.

Under the law the timber must be removed in two logging seasons after the sale, but the timber board may extend the time one year if good cause is shown.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"UNCLE JOSH SPRUCEBY."

A very pretty story of American life told on the stage will be presented at the Brainerd theatre next Monday night. It is the famous play of "Uncle Josh Spruceby," a story of New England farm life, full of fun that keeps the audience in a merry mood through the four acts, and with a vein of pathos that will cause a tear or two trickle down the cheek. The company presenting the play is an efficient one, and in addition to considerable special scenery, a first-class orchestra fills an important part.

One of the novel advertising devices used by the company to attract attention is the daily parade of the "Hayseed" band. The band itself while of much better calibre than the usual traveling organizations, has its members attired, as the title indicates, in the usual characteristic dress of the New England rustic. With "Uncle Josh" himself in the lead, umbrella and carpet sack in hand, they parade the principal streets and give a concert of choice selections. The parade takes place at noon. Seats are now on sale at Dunn's.

His Wife Leaves Him and Refuses to Return Until He Clears His Farm of all The Swine and Joins Her Church.

Amos Miller, a farmer living not far from Brainerd is certainly a man of woe and tribulation, and singularly too his case has never had a parallel in this county. He is sort of halting between two opinions, the affection for his wife and his desire to raise hogs for a livelihood being weighed in the balance. Up to date his wife has been found wanting and the weight of the swine more than tip the balance.

The story runs, as related by Amos, that his better half spent a few months in Chicago with her parents some time ago and became interested there in what is known as the Catholic Zion religion—a new sect with ideas of their own regarding the administration of religious antidotes. Her people are now residents of this county and she has gone to live with them. They have no church of their belief here, but adhere to the principles as laid down in the creed, never wavering in the least, sacrificing even their home comforts if necessary to live up to the doctrine.

Now it has come to pass, according to Amos, that one of the very objectionable species of the animal life, one which is not allowable in his wife's religion, is the hog. The wife of Amos left his home some time ago because it became incumbent on him to maintain a sty, along with other diversified pursuits on the farm, in order to provide all the comforts of a home. Without hogs Amos declares he could not eke out a living, and now it is up to him to either go hungry or lose his wife. He has tried to effect a compromise and only yesterday offered to forgive and forget, but no, all the litter of little curly tailed piglets must be cremated else he will have to "batch" the rest of his life.

He now contemplates divorce.

REMEDY FOR HAY FEVER.

After Trying Other Treatments Hyomei Was Used with Perfect Success.

Prior to the discovery of Hyomei, the only advice a physician could give to a hay fever patient was to go away from home but now any one who expects the disease, can, if Hyomei is used, stay at home without fear of the annual attack of sneezing, watery eyes, and other discomfort.

J. F. Forbes, a well known western railroad man, whose home is at McCook, Neb., writes, "I have never had relief from any remedy for hay fever, even temporarily, until I discovered the merits of Hyomei. I will always recommend it whenever occasion requires."

There is no offensive stomach dosing when Hyomei is used. It is a reliable remedy for the cure of all diseases of the respiratory organs and is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, so that the air taken into the throat and lungs is like that of the White Mountains or other health resorts where hay fever is unknown.

H. H. Dunn & Co. who have the local agency for Hyomei, advise all who are subject to hay fever to begin its use two or three weeks before the time of the annual appearance of this disease and thus prevent the attack. If, however, Hyomei is not used until the sneezing and other disagreeable symptoms have shown themselves, it is necessary to use the treatment more frequently, at least half a dozen times daily, and Hyomei Balm should be rubbed into the nostrils both morning and night.

The fact that H. P. Dunn & Co. agree to refund the money to any hay fever sufferer who uses Hyomei without success, should inspire confidence in its power to effect a cure.

DUTIES ARE DEFINED

SECRETARY ROOT PROCLAIMS A
RULE FOR GUIDANCE OF THE
GENERAL STAFF.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT

SUPREME COMMAND OF THE
ARMY NOW RESTS WITH THE
CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Secretary Root today promulgated a rule defining the duties of the general staff of the army, which, under the law, goes into effect Aug. 15. The most important feature is that in relation to the selection and duty of the chief of staff. On this point the secretary says:

"Under the act of February 14, 1903, the command of the army of the United States rests with the constitutional commander-in-chief, the president. The president will place parts of the army and separate armies whenever constituted, under commanders subordinate to his general command; and in case of exigency seeming to him to require it, he may place the whole army under a single commander subordinate to him; but in time of peace and under ordinary conditions the administration and control of the army are effected without any second in command.

"The president's command is exercised through the secretary of war and the chief of staff. The secretary of war is charged with carrying out the policies of the president in military affairs. He directly represents the president and is bound always to act in conformity to the president's instructions. Under the law and the decisions of the supreme court his acts are the president's acts and his directions and orders are the president's directions and orders.

"The chief of staff reports to the secretary of war, acts as his military adviser, receives from him the direction and orders given in behalf of the president, and gives effect thereto in the manner hereinafter provided.

"Exceptions to this ordinary course of administration, may, however, be made at any time by actual direction of the president if he sees fit to call upon the chief of staff to give information or advice or receive instructions, directly.

"The chief of staff is detailed by the president from officers of the army at large not below the grade of brigadier general. The successful performance of the duties of the position requires what the title denotes—a relation of absolute confidence and personal accord and sympathy between the chief of staff and the president and necessarily also between the chief of staff and the secretary of war. For this reason, without any reflection whatever upon the officer detailed, the detail will in every case cease, unless sooner terminated, on the day following the expiration of the term of office of the president by whom the detail is made, and if at any time the chief of staff considers that he can no longer sustain toward the president and secretary of war the relations above described, it will be his duty to apply to be relieved.

"The chief of staff is charged with the duty of supervising, under the direction of the secretary of war, all troops of the line, the adjutant generals, inspector generals, judge advocate generals, quartermasters, subsistence, medical, pay, and ordnance departments, the corps of engineers and the signal corps. He performs such other military duties not otherwise assigned by law as may be assigned to him by the president.

"This paragraph and subsequent paragraphs confer all authority in the war department on the chief of staff under the direction of the secretary of war.

"The remainder of the order relates to the duties of other members of the general staff and gives the provisions of the law relating to the general staff. The general staff will become an advisory and investigating body and will prepare plans for the organization and mobilization of the army, collect information and make preparation for plans of campaigns, etc.

Another general order has been issued amending the regulations of the army to meet the changed conditions which the general staff law makes necessary.

IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS.

Board of Visitors Would Make Changes Affecting Naval Academy.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Recommendations of far-reaching importance to the future of the naval academy are contained in the annual report of the board of visitors of that institution, which, by order of the acting secretary of the navy, was made public Friday. The board recommends that candidates be admitted to Annapolis on certificates from certain schools approved by the academic board, the board believing "the studies of the better class of state universities could be modified to meet the peculiar needs of the naval academy," that candidates be nominated one year in advance of the entrance examination; that graduation at the end of four years be final, relieving midshipmen of the necessity of returning for two years after graduation for further examination; that graduates be commissioned as soon as graduated; that the teaching force of the academy be increased in view of the recent great increase in numbers of midshipmen; and that a department of special training be established, thereby placing this matter under the special supervision of a highly qualified expert.

Storm Destroys Iowa Crops.

St. Louis, Ia., Aug. 15.—A severe hail and wind storm destroyed crops in a wide strip in Sac county Friday afternoon. In and about Lytton build- ings were destroyed but no one hurt.

HORRIBLE DISASTER.

Ignition of Gas Kills or Maims Italian Miners.

Rome, Aug. 15.—A horrible disaster has occurred in the sulphur mine near Caltanissetta, Sicily. Gas in the mine became ignited, and obstructed the exit of 100 miners. The mine boss directed all the employees to save themselves if they could, while he, with five others, bravely remained on the spot in order to try to extinguish the fire.

Three of the miners have died, and many others, although they succeeded in reaching the open air, are horribly burned and maimed. The boss and his five companions found an unused exit and escaped, but their condition is desperate.

THREE MEN GARROTED.

Cubans Put to Death for Robbing and Murdering a Planter.

Havana, Aug. 15.—Three men were garroted Friday in Santa Clara province for the murder and robbery of a planter. All claimed to be innocent and refused the ministrations of a priest. The relatives had come to Havana and had pleaded unavailingly with President Palma for clemency.

RESULT OF THE PRIZE FIGHT.

Wisconsin Man Shot in Quarrel Over Corbett-Jeffries Contest.

Prairie du Chien, Wis., Aug. 15.—R. D. George was shot at McGregor by Mayor John W. Walters during a quarrel over the Corbett-Jeffries fight. The victim, though still alive, will probably live but a few hours.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

President Roosevelt and John G. Carlisle discussed finance at Oyster Bay on Friday.

King Edward of England is at Marienbad, Austria, taking a course of water treatment.

Martin O'Brien, secretary of the Irish National club, died suddenly at his home in New York City Friday.

The number of dead from the hurricane in Jamaica is now seventy, and the property loss is $15,000,000.

A passenger train ran into an open switch at Van Wert, O., Friday, and the engineer was killed and fifteen other people injured.

At Hagerman, Darke county, O., there are threats of lynching George Potter for the alleged murder of his employer, Daniel Randolph.

Officials at Albany, Ga., deny the reported lynching of King Wightman, a negro, and a white man named Thompson at Hartsfield for assaulting Mrs. Mathis, a white woman.

Peter McErlane, passenger conductor on the Great Western, had his left leg crushed by the wheels of his train, under which he fell at Hayfield, Minn. He died in a St. Paul hospital after the foot was amputated.

WILL TRY FRENCH ENGINE.

Pennsylvania Railroad to Import One For a Practical Test.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company will make practical tests with a French locomotive of the De Glehn compound type, which is regarded as the most perfect working passenger locomotive used in Europe.

A sample locomotive is now being built in France at a cost of $20,000 for the company. It will be delivered at Philadelphia about March 14 and will be put in service, says the New York World.

If the French engine shall prove superior in any respects, the points making it so will be used to improve the American passenger locomotive. The locomotive will be exhibited at St. Louis.

DUTIES ARE DEFINED

RULE FOR GUIDANCE OF THE
GENERAL STAFF.

VESTED IN THE PRESIDENT

SUPREME COMMAND OF THE
ARMY NOW RESTS WITH THE
CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Secretary Root today promulgated a rule defining the duties of the general staff of the army, which, under the law, goes into effect Aug. 15. The most important feature is that in relation to the selection and duty of the chief of staff. On this point the secretary says:

"Under the act of February 14, 1903, the command of the army of the United States rests with the constitutional commander-in-chief, the president.
The president will place parts of the army and separate armies whenever constituted, under commanders subordinate to his general command; and in case of exigency seeming to him to require it, he may place the whole army under a single commander subordinate to him; but in time of peace and under ordinary conditions the administration and control of the army are effected without any second in command.

"The president's command is exercised through the secretary of war and the chief of staff. The secretary of war is charged with carrying out the Policies of the President in military affairs. He directly represents the president and is bound to act in conformity to the president's instructions. Under the law and the decisions of the supreme court his acts are the president's acts and his directions and orders are the president's directions and orders.

"The chief of staff reports to the secretary of war, acts as his military adviser, receives from him the direction and orders given in behalf of the president, and gives effect thereto in the manner hereinafter provided.
"Exceptions to this ordinary course of administration, may, however, be made at any time by actual direction of the president if he sees fit to call upon the chief of staff to give information or advice or receive instructions, directly.

"The chief of staff is detailed by the president from officers of the army at large not below the grade of brigadier general. The successful performance of the duties of the position requires what the title denotes—a relation of absolute confidence and personal accord and sympathy between the chief of staff and the president and necessarily also between the chief of staff and the secretary of war. For this reason, without any reflection whatever upon the officer detailed, the detail

Will in Every Case Cease, unless sooner terminated, on the day following the expiration of the term of office of the president by whom the detail is made, and if at any time the chief of staff considers that he can no longer sustain toward the president and secretary of war the relations above described, it will be his duty to apply to be relieved.

"The chief of staff is charged with the duty of supervising, under the direction of the secretary of war, all troops of the line, the adjutant generals, inspector generals, quartermasters, subsistence, medical, pay, and ordnance departments,
the corps of engineers and the signal corps. He performs such other military duties not otherwise assigned by law as may be assigned to him by the president."

This paragraph and subsequent paragraphs confer all authority in the war department on the chief of staff under the direction of the secretary of war.

The remainder of the order relates to the duties of other members of the general staff and gives the provisions of the law relating to the general staff. The general staff will become an advisory and investigating body and will prepare plans for the organization and mobilization of the army, collect information and make preparation for plans of campaigns, etc.

Another general order has been issued amending the regulations of the army to meet the changed conditions which the general staff law makes necessary.

IMPORTANT RECOMMENDATIONS.

Board of Visitors Would Make Changes Affecting Naval Academy.

Washington, Aug. 15.—Recommendations of far-reaching importance to the future of the naval academy are contained in the annual report of the board of visitors of that institution, which, by order of the acting secretary of the navy, was made public Friday. The board recommends that candidates be admitted to Annapolis on certificates from certain schools approved by the academic board, the board believing "the studies of the better class of state universities could be modified to meet the peculiar needs of the naval academy;" that candidates be nominated one year in advance of the entrance examination; that graduation at the end of four years be final, relieving midshipmen of the necessity of returning for two years after graduation for further examination; that graduates be commissioned as soon as graduated; that the teaching force of the academy be increased in view of the recent great increase in numbers of midshipmen, and that a department of special training be established, thereby placing this matter under the special supervision of a highly qualified expert.

Storm Destroys Iowa Crops.

HORRIBLE DISASTER.

Ignition of Gas Kills or Maims Italian Miners.

Rome, Aug. 15.—A horrible disaster has occurred in the sulphur mine near Caltanissetta, Sicily. Gas in the mine became ignited and obstructed the exit of 100 miners. The mine boss directed all the employees to save themselves if they could, while he, with five others, bravely remained on the spot in order to try to extinguish the fire.

Three of the miners have died, and many others, although they succeeded in reaching the open air, are horribly burned and maimed. The boss and his five companions found an unused exit and escaped, but their condition is desperate.

THREE MEN GARROTED.

Cubans Put to Death for Robbing and Murdering a Planter.

Havana, Aug. 15.—Three men were

WILL TRY FRENCH ENGINE.

Pennsylvania Railroad to Import One For a Practical Test.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company will make practical tests with a French locomotive of the De Glehn compound type, which is regarded as the most perfect working passenger locomotive used in Europe.

A sample locomotive is now being built in France at a cost of $20,000 for the company.
It will be delivered at Philadelphia about March 14 and will be put in service, says
the New York World.

If the French engine shall prove superior in any respects, the points making it so will be used to improve the American passenger locomotive. The locomotive will be exhibited at St. Louis.

The crystal

the appealing "humanness"
of the Packard tonalities

Exactness of musician or simple lover of pure melody, you have only to hear the Packard to feel its unusual tone charm.
